THE CONSTITUTION.

EVENTS FOR TODAY.

MEETINGS—
CITY LODGE NO. 33 KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, AT 7 P. M.

THROUGH THE CITY.

Penciled Paragraphs Caught on the Fly by the Constitution Reporters.

MARRIED IN LOCUST GROVE.—Miss Alice Hayes was united in marriage yesterday with Mr. James G. Gardner. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, in Locust Grove, in the presence of a large number of friends.

A DEAD CHILD FOUND.—Early yesterday morning the remains of a child was found in a grave near Colonel Hulsey's residence. The child had evidently been dead for several days, and the dogs had eaten away one arm. Coroner Hayes was notified, and with a jury of inquiry visited the place. County Physician Dr. Boering stated that the child had been foully dealt with, and a verdict to that effect was rendered. No clue to the child's parentage was secured.

AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION.—One of the most delightful events of the past week, and one that will be pleasantly remembered by all present, was the gathering last Friday evening by the ladies of Grace Congregational church. The evening was most pleasantly spent. There were eight tables laden with every delicacy that heart could wish for. These were presided over by Misses Mattie Morris, Ida Kenney, Georgia Thompson, A. West, Georgia Walker, Emma Stephens, Maggie Bridwell and Jessie Walker.

A HAPPY MARRIAGE.—Yesterday evening at 6 o'clock Mr. G. Henry Pinkston and Miss Helena Burke were united in marriage by Rev. Father McCarty, at the parsonage. Both are residents of Atlanta and have many friends in the city. Mr. Pinkston is one of the most popular clergymen in the Methodist church.

Miss Burke is a lady of rare personal attractions. The happy couple, with their friends, repaired to the home of the bride's parents, in Calhoun street, where a reception was held and a delightful repast was partaken of. Mr. and Mrs. Pinkston were the recipients of a number of handsome presents, and the young couple have the congratulations of their numerous friends.

A HARD FALL.—A. Lichtenstein, a young New Yorker, dropped into the elevator well at Wellhouse & Son's paper box factory yesterday morning about 11 o'clock and was dangerously injured. He was unconscious when Adolphus, the middle of the week, and his father and mother and other members of the family made themselves at home at the Kimball. Yesterday morning Mr. Lichtenstein went with the Messrs. Wellhouse to their store on Alabama street and while walking around the office dropped into the elevator well. The distance to the floor was about eighteen feet, and the fall so hard cut open Mr. Wellhouse's right hand, his friend's side hit him in a critical condition. A litter was prepared and he was carried to the hotel. Dr. Borchheim was called in and did all he could to render the aid. Mr. Lichtenstein's injuries are quite painful and dangerous.

AN ATLANTIAN'S SUCCESS.—A Tallasoosa, Ala., exchange has the following about an old Atlanta boy who still has many friends here, and is doing remarkably well in his present home; where he is superintendent of the public schools:

A large and select audience assembled on Wednesday evening, last, in the basement of the Methodist church to listen to the lecture of Prof. Carleton Mitchell, delivered under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city. The theme selected by Prof. Mitchell was "Self Life." He found that "self-knowledge," "self-control," "a firm purpose," and "integrity" form the basis of a successful life.

The delivery was elegant, the reasoning clear and logical, and the humorous illustrations, skillfully woven into this serious text, were received with hearty applause.

We hope to have soon another opportunity of listening to the elegant sermons of our gifted townsmen.

Those who composed Prof. Mitchell's audience, and particularly the younger members thereof, will ponder his wise utterances and try to embody them into the practice of their daily life.

ANNIVERSARY AT TRINITY.

Boys Branch Y. M. C. A. Holds the First Anniversary.—An Interesting Meeting.

The first anniversary of the boy's branch of the Young Men's Christian association, was held at Trinity last night. Before the hour of opening the exercises, seats had to be brought in to accommodate the large number in attendance.

Mr. W. H. Hart, president of the association, Mr. W. H. Haggard, vice-president, presided. After a voluntary by the choir, Mr. E. W. Brockman read the twelfth chapter of Ecclesiastes. Rev. R. L. Hester offered a prayer which was followed by a hymn.

"Only an armor bearer."

"How I became a worker in the Y. M. C. A." was the title of a paper, a year or two ago, presented to the audience by Rev. Mr. Lewis by Dr. McD. Parkhurst.

Mr. Lewis told what the boy's branch had done for the boys I know. His remarks were listened to with profound interest.

Mr. E. L. Hester spoke upon the "Influence of the branch on the after life." His clear voice and manner captured his hearers.

Mr. H. B. Mayes spoke upon "Bible Study," in a masterly effort in our young people, presented the theme of God's word. "A work for each of us" was sung by the audience.

When Mr. M. L. Starke gave "A glance backward." His report of the work accomplished in one year was full of interest.

Beginning with a meeting of four boys, the meetings attained a popularity that was quite remarkable. As high as four hundred boys strength.

It was stated that in a few days a prominent real estate agent will enlist in the army. Mr. Walter Witters is taking an active part in the meetings. Rev. Mr. O'Donnell is giving active assistance.

THE SALVATIONISTS.

GREAT SUCCESS ATTENDING THEIR BATTLES WITH THE WICKED.

IMMENSE THRONG TURN OUT TO HEAR THEM.—FIFTY-ONE CONVERS GATHERED IN THE RANKS SO FAR.—WHO THEY ARE.—THE ARMY'S PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.—THE SOUTH TO BE INVADED.

SALVATION BARRACKS, or more commonly known as Holbrook's hall, No. 83 South Whitehall street, was packed last night almost to suffocation. The seating capacity of the hall is said to be 1,000. Last night about 1,200 persons succeeded in gaining admittance to the hall. To move or turn around was an impossibility so closely was the mass of human beings wedged together. On the stage were a number of persons well known in Atlanta and a lot of small boys.

The Salvation Army made its appearance in this city about three weeks ago. Only a small contingent of the male body was ordered here, and this contingent is officered by Captain Ella Bruckner and Cadets Moore and Adams. The officers are indefatigable in their efforts to reach those who are treading in the path of sin.

WHEN Captain Ella Bruckner made her first onslaught on Atlanta, people began to wonder what manner of person had dropped down in their midst. Her sincerity in what she professed to be—a follower of Jesus Christ—was doubted, her form of worship was ridiculed and her uniform and tambourine were pointed at.

But her sincerity, nor that of those who are assisting her, can no longer be doubted, judging from the large number of conversions that have been made in so short a time. Fifty-two persons have professed religion already, and of this number about fifteen have joined the army, several of the latter well known saloonists before prohibition forced them out of business. The converts related their experiences last night was very impressive, to say the least, and brought tears to the eyes of many a hardened sinner. The card, table and the wine bottle were arraigned as being the two most powerful agents of the devil, and fathers and mothers were urgently appealed to to cast them aside, for their evil influences were indicated in their children.

Among those who have been converted and who are residents of Atlanta are the following: H. Hildreth, Eddie Ponder, M. C. Gravitt, Julian Brown, P. Guy, Will Hill, Lee Curtis, S. B. Woodall, Charles Davis, Robert O. Shield, Mrs. Wood, Eddie McAnally, Thomas Gravitt, Ransom Shinn, L. N. Land, Maggie Kendall, Howard Johnson, G. A. Colling, Clyde Curran, A. E. Franklin, Sarah Franklin, James Gammon, Mrs. P. O'Brien, K. O'Brien, Mrs. O'Brien, Willie Biers, A. Smith, S. S. Churchill, Mattie Bontrich, Maggie Harris, Emma Whittington, Fannie Sharon, Nickolas Randolph, Lucy Buford, Maggie Singley, Ella Speers, Minnie Biers, Emma M. Wells, Willie Maxwell, Eula Waite, Nellie Jones, Fred Biers, Emma Waite, Frank Barnard, Willie Biers, Eddie Pender, J. Wilbur Butland, B. M. Keith, and one Gray.

Mr. Butland is at present a clerk at the Metropolitan hotel and Mr. Gray was formerly a saloon keeper. These converts appear to be thoroughly in earnest in the step they have taken, and as some of them said last night they never knew a happy moment until the Salvation Army came to this city.

The converts from evil, unreserved devotion to God and the duty of sacrificing themselves to gain the salvation of the largest number of souls. Contrary to general opinion, quite a number of those who have joined the army in this city are intelligent and law abiding citizens.

Captain Ella Bruckner was assisted last night by Rev. Joseph Colborn and Rev. Charles J. O'Neil, both of whom are Methodist preachers and have lived in this city for a number of years. Rev. Joseph Colborn has been engaged in preaching the gospel for forty years, but is at present without a charge, and takes great interest in the meetings of the Salvation Army. He delivered a stirring exhortation to sinners last night; pointing out to them in vigorous though eloquent language the awful doom that awaited all those who turned their backs on Jesus Christ.

If the interest in the Salvation Army increases a larger hall will have to be procured, as was evidenced last night. The audience was very respectful and orderly. Two policemen were stationed at the door but their services were not needed. When the Salvation Army came to town they had to borrow money to pay rent of the hall, but that debt has been cleared, and the cause is now in good shape.

Mr. E. M. Keith will leave tomorrow night for Augusta, Ga., to make arrangements for a hall, and in a few days a detachment will be sent there to wrestle with the followers of the devil in that city. Spartanburg, S. C., is also to be visited. The officers are to go to Birmingham, Charlotte, and Atlanta.

Mr. E. W. Brockman read the twelfth chapter of Ecclesiastes. Rev. R. L. Hester offered a prayer which was followed by a hymn.

THEIR CITY SCALES.

EDITORIALS.—The ordinance introduced at last meeting by Mr. Rice to establish public scales in the city has excited considerable favorable comment by the city press, all of which is very proper; but why should they at the same time seek to cast odium upon the coal dealers of Atlanta, when they are the only class of merchants in the city needing some check upon their dealing in coal?

The ordinance is in reality no new thing. Some of the leading coal dealers presented a petition for just such an ordinance, but the committee to whom it was referred, reported that if one scale was established there ought to be two, one on each side of the street, and that the dealers available for locating such scales. Again, some years later, the dealers presented a similar one coal bill, but I know the dealers in Atlanta well enough to know that with company advertising, any other class of our retail merchants for honesty and fair dealing. There is a great deal of misapprehension and ignorance upon this subject, and I trust the ordinance will be passed, but the committee to whom it was referred, reported that if one scale was established there ought to be two, one on each side of the street, and that the dealers available for locating such scales.
